—The heat record in Tionesta yesterday is said to have been 92 in the shade.
—Autoists say the roads are improving, but need a little rain occasionally to lay the dust.
—The Fourth of July is coming apace. Shall Tionesta celebrate? Might try a dry one.
—The report of the annual Forest county Sunday school convention will be found on the fourth page.
—The REPUBLICAN can furnish you with the very latest in engraved calling cards or anything else in that line, at reasonable prices.—lf.
—We still have a good supply of the government garden seed at this office which we will be glad to give out to any one who will call for it.

—Oleomargarine always fresh, always the same price and making new friends each day, at 20c per pound in nine pound lots, at the Salmon Creek Mercantile Co., Kellestville, Pa.

—The Pastime Theatre is the coolest place in town just now, having installed two 16-inch electric fans. This popular playhouse always has the comfort of its patrons in mind. Quality pictures, adv.
—Joseph Clark is adding to the comfort of his home by the erection of a new veranda to the front of his house. Tionesta might well be referred to as the little city of beautiful lawns and pretty porches.
—The committee in charge announce another of their joyous dances at the pavilion on German Hill, Friday evening, June 19. Good order guaranteed, and no intoxicants or intoxicated persons allowed on the premises.
—Wm. Blum received a vicious kick from a horse he was trying to shoe yesterday morning. The blow struck him on the head near the temple and might easily have put neighbor Blum forever to sleep had he been an inch nearer the animal.
—The well known McDonald House at Vowinkel, Clarion county, was burned to the ground Tuesday night of last week with all contents, entailing a loss upon the proprietor, Joe Rubin, of about $2,000. The hotel was refused a renewal of its license at the last session of court.
—This, the leafy month of June, is also supposed to produce the festive June bride, yet often there's nothing doing in that industry. However, it's early yet, besides we're bound to reap a harvest in June roses and pretty laurel blossoms, so cheer up, ye love-sick lad and lassie.
—Since last Friday the Sheffield & Tionesta passenger train has been hauled by the regular passenger engine, No. 5, Engineer E. S. Blausner having thoroughly overhauled it and put it in first class condition. The name of the road painted in bright yellow letters also improves the looks of the engine.
—Many of Tionesta's pretty homes have been further beautified by the application of a coat of paint, among them the domiciles of J. C. Gist, Wm. Smearlaug, G. W. Robinson, W. G. Wyman, G. G. Gaston, J. W. Jamieson. And there are more to follow as soon as the painters get to them.
—Prof. Archie Hillard, a teacher in the Wilkinsburg schools the past year, has moved to the country near Hoboken, Pa., for the summer. He has been re-elected for the ensuing year, and just to show their opinion of his work the board of education jumped his salary to sixteen hundred dollars a year.
—Thus far the country has escaped the usual June frost, although the line was very nearly reached a morning or two last week. As this is the 10th of the month, and the weather man has promised summer weather the balance of this week, it is likely that danger from summer freezes is passed for the season.
—By the death on Saturday last of John K. Snow of Franklin, another of the gallant defenders of the flag has answered the last roll call. He was one of the first to answer the call for volunteers, enlisting in the 83d regiment, of which organization he was president at the time of his death. Comrade Snow would have been 74 years of age had he lived till July 16, next.

—Eugene Groseman, a student at Grove City college who is spending the summer vacation as a woodsman in the employ of Jobber E. L. DeWoody at Nebraska, had the misfortune to cut his right ankle severely by a mistake of the axe he was handling yesterday morning. Mr. DeWoody brought the young man to town in his car and Dr. Bovard gave him the necessary surgical relief, and expects his patient to get well without serious trouble.
—Tomorrow, Thursday, the City Fruit store will show a splendid stock of fruit and fresh vegetables, perhaps the finest they've had yet, though that is saying a good deal. The prices will be lower, but the quality will be better, so come around early and make your selections. We can't begin to enumerate the variety, but can assure that it will be sufficiently varied to suit all tastes and desires. We'll be here with the goods—its up to you to buy 'em and eat 'em.—adv.

—The current report of the Oil City Trust Co. in response to call from the banking commissioner sets another new high record for financial institutions in northwestern Pennsylvania. Deposits show an increase of $350,000 since the report of February 20, and now aggregate $1,600,000. The resources of the company total $5,683,000, these figures do not include trust funds of over $1,050,000. Make a little study of the ad. of this remarkable financial institution as set forth on page one of this issue.
—County Treasurer Brazee disposed of fifty-five tracts of land at his tax sale Monday afternoon, which leaves 25 yet to dispose of and which will be offered at the adjourned sale taking place at 1:30 p. m., June 30th. The bidding at times was quite spirited, one tract of 65 acres lying just north of the County Home farm, in Hickory township, and assessed in the name of Cascade Petroleum Land Association, being bid to upward of $10,000. But it was redeemed immediately after being knocked down to the high bidder.
—General Manager S. B. Snook of the Coleman, Harter & McCormick lumbering plant, a day or so ago, received a consignment of trout the like of which, for size and general all round beauty relegated all other exhibits a mile in the shade. But Mr. S., having also traveled some in his day, knew he couldn't get away with the catch in a month's eating, so he invited a number of congenial friends down to the Goshgoshunk lodge last evening to enjoy the feast with him. It is not on record that any turned down the invite, but on the contrary there was something doing to those speckled beauties when the faithful gathered about the festive board. Our reporter claims to have created a near famine at Delmonico's, but to have undertaken such a stunt at this time would have been suicidal, and that friend Snook has set a pace as an entertainer that none but the most foolhardy would undertake to distance.
—An important business deal was consummated in Oil City last week involving a change of ownership of the Smart & Silberberg stores in that city to the C. H. Smith company of Warren, Pa. The new company will take over the business on the first of July. The Messrs. Smart and Silberberg have built up a wonderful trade in their line in the 22 years in which they have been associated as partners, and from the time of their occupancy of the handsome block which they finished in 1901, they have enjoyed the distinction of having one of the finest stores between Pittsburg and Buffalo, and in their retirement from business they carry with them the best wishes of a very large circle of friends and patrons, not only in Oil City, but the nearby towns as well. The new owners will not be strangers to the people throughout this region, and their large experience in mercantile lines and excellent business reputation will fit in perfectly with the good name left by the S. & S. company.
—The Howe township school board held a meeting at Blue Jay last Saturday and elected the following teachers for the coming school year: Brookston, No. 1, Florence Hetrick; No. 2, Neil McElroy; No. 3, Lory Strickner; Watson Farm, E. G. McCurdy; Frosts, Harry A. Myers; Lyneb, no election; Hastings, no election; Sheriffs, Adaline Grubbs; Porkey, No. 1, Tressa Hendrickson; No. 2, Kate Guenther; Porter Farm, no election; Potter's Camp, Eva Brinkley; Sheffield Junction, discontinued. The board is considering the erection of a new school building at Kingsley but for the coming year will send the scholars at that place to the Mayburg schools, having completed such an arrangement with W. F. Jones and Leon Watson, president and secretary of the Kingsley township school board, who were present at the meeting. The length of term is eight months, to begin August 31st. The tax levy was fixed at five mills, three for school and two for building.
—Saturday afternoon last our town had the distinction of entertaining Hosea Paul, Esq., Recorder of Cuyahoga county, Ohio, which embraces the city of Cleveland and suburbs. Mr. Paul was once a familiar figure in this section, when Tionesta was a part of Venango county, back in the early part of 1866, when the oil excitement ran rampant throughout this section and an acre of swamp land commanded fabulous figures. Mr. Paul then followed civil engineering and, with his brothers, surveyed and plotted that section of Harmony township through which West Hickory creek takes its course, and he still has a well preserved map of the stream and the land bordering thereon, most of which in those days passed into the hands of the venturesome oil speculator, and indeed much of which is still held by the descendants and heirs, executors and assigns of these early investors. Mr. Paul was a resident of West Hickory when the town of several thousand inhabitants was located near where the buildings of the Carter farm now stand, and when two or three bustling oil towns existed along the stream between its mouth and four to five miles up. That was before the prolific fields of old Fagundus was "struck," thus shifting the scenes of activity to a higher altitude and where a number of fortunes were made in the few flourishing years of its existence. Mr. Paul delights to return to the scenes of those early days and go over much of the ground so familiar to him then. He still retains some interests in that territory some of which is producing oil, and it would not be surprising to learn that he had added to the developments before the summer is over. There is a fascination about the business that one seems unable to wholly shake off.

E. L. DeWoody Injured in Auto Wreck.

E. L. DeWoody, of Nebraska, the well known jobber for Collins, Darrak & Co., and a party with him, had a narrow escape from fatal injuries yesterday when the Ford car owned and driven by Mr. DeWoody was wrecked by going over a high embankment on the road between Tionesta and Nebraska. With him in the car were his daughter, Edna DeWoody, aged 14 years, Evelyn Dunlavy, aged 7 years, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Dunlavy of Tionesta, and Eugene Groseman, of Grove City. Mr. DeWoody had brought Mr. Groseman to the office of Dr. Bovard here to have a cut in his ankle sewed up and the girls came along for a pleasure trip. The party started on the return trip shortly after noon and had reached a point a short distance above the old Michien mill, a mile from Nebraska, when the car suddenly swerved to the right and went over the bank, turning turtle and landing bottom up on the track of the S. & T. Railway, eight feet below. Mr. Groseman managed to jump from the car but Mr. DeWoody and the girls were pinned under it, with serious position they were quickly rescued by Mr. Groseman, who lifted the machine and helped them out. They were taken to the DeWoody home and Dr. Bovard was summoned, who found Mr. DeWoody suffering from two fractured ribs in his left side, some painful bruises about the chest and a cut on his forehead. Strange to relate the girls were not injured in the least, excepting a few slight scratches on their arms. The physician says Mr. DeWoody will soon recover from his injuries, although he was seriously shaken up. The escape of the entire party from more serious injury was miraculous. Mr. Groseman, having had an artery severed in the previous accident to his ankle, was greatly weakened by the loss of blood and his exertions in lifting the car, and fainted after the excitement was over. Mr. DeWoody says he has no clear recollection of what happened after they passed the Michien mill, but thinks he was suddenly overcome by the heat, causing a blank in which he lost control of the car. After the car swerved from the center of the road the tracks showed that it ran a hundred feet before toppling over the bank. The machine was lying wheels up on the railroad track, with the upper works badly smashed. The machinery or running gear does not appear to be badly damaged.
